Join us for Education Day 10.15.2024, 12 - 6 pm
The Future of Healthcare Education

Seize the opportunity to engage with & learn from educators throughout WashU!

Elevate your network, partake in captivating break-outs, and gain insights into projects happening campus-wide through compelling oral & poster presentations.

Together, let's extend a warm welcome to our new members and applaud the exceptional individuals who have received well-deserved awards. Mark your calendars for a day dedicated to shining a spotlight on our remarkable educators!

Keynote Speaker: Adam Rodman is a general internist and medical educator at Beth Israel Deaconess Medical Center and an assistant professor at Harvard Medical School, where he leads the task force for integration of AI into the medical school curriculum. He is also an associate editor at NEJM AI. His research focuses on medical education, clinical reasoning, integration of digital technologies, and human-computer interaction, especially with AI. His first book is entitled "Short Cuts: Medicine," and he is the host of the American College of Physicians podcast Bedside Rounds.
