

Educating for Democracy

Pitfalls and Possibilities

Thursday, September 11

7:00 pm | Bryan Cave Moot Courtroom

This panel discussion will address how universities can fulfill their mission of educating citizens in an era of polarization, waning trust in institutions, and questions about higher education's relevance and cost. Panelists will examine both the challenges and opportunities facing higher education today.

Panelists

Roosevelt Montás

*John and Margaret Bard
Professor in Liberal Education and Civic Life at Bard College*

David French

New York Times Columnist

Mary-Rose Papandrea

*Burchfield Professor of First Amendment and Free Speech
Law at GW School of Law*

Moderator

John Inazu

Sally D. Danforth Distinguished Professor of Law & Religion at WashU Law

Free and open to the public with reception following the panel. RSVPs requested.

WashU Law

TEMPLETON
RELIGION
TRUST

WashU Arts & Sciences

John C. Danforth Center for Religion & Politics

WashU Arts & Sciences

Weidenbaum Center on the Economy, Government, and Public Policy