

Academy of Educators

Office of Education

 Washington
University in St. Louis
SCHOOL OF MEDICINE

The Academy of Educators invites you to Education Day 2022, October 11, from 1 - 6 pm

Keynote speaker: Dr. Paul Williams

Paul Williams is an internist, clinician-educator, and podcaster, hailing from York, Pennsylvania and now working in Philadelphia. His professional interests include medical education and bedside medicine. When he's not pursuing his interests in medical education and transitions of care, Paul engages in the most insufferable kind of music, cinematic, and literary snobbery. Dr. Williams is host and co-creator of THE internal medicine podcast, The Curbsiders. He can be reached at thecurbsiders@gmail.com.

1:00 - 3:50 pm - Workshop topics include:

medical podcasts, safe learning environments, assessment and feedback, and active learning techniques

2:10-2:50 pm - Roundtable discussion topics include:

simulation, the learning environment, teaching pathways, assessment, social media, growth mindset, and GME milestones

4:00 - 4:30 pm - Keynote speaker:

Dr. Paul Williams

4:30 - 4:55 pm - New Member Induction:

Amy Bauernfeind, PhD and Abby Spencer, MD

Chair, Academy Membership Subcommittee and Director, Academy of Educators

4:55 - 5:15 pm - Academy Awards Presentation:

Suzie Thibodeaux, MD and Colleen Wallace, MD
Co-chairs, Academy Awards Subcommittee

5:15 - 6:10 pm - Posters/Reception/Networking

Full agenda and event registration here.

 Washington University School of Medicine in St. Louis

Academy of Educators

Copyright © 2022 Office of Education, All rights reserved.

Want to change how you receive these emails?
You can update your preferences or unsubscribe from this list.

